

After auditioning numerous singers, the band are delighted when Paul Taylor comes to audition and he is immediately offered the vocalist job.

The band returns to Bark Studios to record a new demo tape consisting of three songs: "Deal with the Devil", "Born Loser" and "Dead Man's Gold", before parting company with Steve.

After auditioning numerous guitarists, Norman Gordon joins in November. The band are almost as impressed with the way he squeezes a Marshall stack into the back of a Mini as they are with his playing!!

This line-up rehearses throughout November and December preparing for their prestigious debut gig at The Royal Standard, Walthamstow
