

Recording 'The Root of All Evil' at The Lodge Studios

Here are six snippets of footage taken at The Lodge Studios, England, as Midnight Messiah recorded their debut album.

The series features short clips of the boys laying down drum tracks, double-tracking the guitars, adding bass runs, recording vocals, recording some lead guitar solos and even recording some keyboard parts that didn't make the final mix of the album. We hope you find it interesting to see some of the recording process.
